

The Must-Eat in Tribeca

LET US SATISFY YOUR INNER FOODIE

Ryder Scott, 22, has just graduated from college and landed his first job in the Tribeca area! After few weeks of exploring, he now has two favorite spots and will share with us today! First, we have Benton Cafe. This Korean restaurant specializes in bento box but also offers customers the choices of sushi, sandwiches, breakfast pastries and salad. If you are trying bento for the first time,

“VERY CONVENIENT
BUT TRENDY
”

we recommend their Salmon Bento Box!

The restaurant is located on 123 William St A. To get there by subway, take either 2 or 3 train and get off at Fulton Street Station. It is about a minute walk from the station.

Next, we have El Vez. It is a mexican fusion restaurant. The place is decorated with vibrant color and is a great spot to enjoy an after-work drink.

But what wins Scott's heart is the burrito bar. During lunch break, the restaurant offers chipotle style to-go burrito bar. It is super convenient for those looking for a quick bite for their lunch break.

For this place, we highly recommend their grilled fish taco! If you are in the mood for something different, try their ox-tail enchiladas!

The restaurant is located on 259 Vesey St. You can get there by taking either 1,2,3 train and get off at Chamber Street Station, or you can take the E train and get off at World Trade Center. The walk will take about 8 minutes.

Scott described Tribeca as "very convenient but trendy." There are so many delicious restaurants besides the two we mentioned. So why not pick a weekend and go on a Tribeca adventure ?

Designed / Edited by Jennifer Lu