I sat down with the self proclaimed best Philadelphia teenaged yelper aka Nyla Williams. I wanted to get insight on the best places to eat when in "The City of Brotherly Love". Though Williams is a Philadelphia native she is cultured and also eats in the neighborhoods surrounding Philly -- so to say the least this girl knows her food.

Hi my name is Nyla Williams, I was born and raised in South Philadelphia. Naturally growing up here I know the best spots to get a bite to eat. I am pretty adventurous when eating and I do not shy away from trying new things. But, I always find myself eating Philly staple food options We have a wide range of food options. I am a fan of Philly classic such as cheesesteaks, water-ice, soft pretzels. But I also am a little bit of a health nut with an ironic love for pasta.

I love going to Ishkabibbles on South St for my cheesesteaks. It's my favorite spot to get cheesesteaks around. The rolls are from Amoroso Rolls, they are always was so fresh and soft. The finely chopped steak was well seasoned, the onions were chopped and sautéed just right. The cheese wiz is what ultimately makes it a Philly Cheesesteak. They put just the right amount of cheese needed. But, most important these cheesesteaks have loads flavor!

Best water ice, pizza pretzel and soft baked cookies in South Philly!!!! This place is a hidden gem unless you are truly from South Philly. They offer a variety of flavored water ices. My favorite cookies are the chocolate chip, oatmeal raisin & sugar. I always have a hard time deciding if I want water ice and cookies or a pizza pretzel so I usually end up getting all 3 and saving the cookies for later. My family & I have visited this same location for over the past 13yrs and we don't plan on stopping.

Recently I started venturing out to surrounding neighborhoods as I was interested in what food options they had to offer. I visited Bryn and Dane's an American restaurant with a twist This place is new to me & I found it while visiting my sister. When you walk in the place the vibe is real chill. There's windows all around so you get a lot of sunlight. There is also plants everywhere where so you could see that they are eco friendly. You order your food at the computers stations that send the order to the back where they make it. The computer spits out a pick-up number and you wait. I got a wrap with balsamic & chicken with a gluten free wrap. It's was really good. It was so good. The total was cheap as well. The two girls that were working were very friendly and helpful.

I also went to Marco's Restaurant which is another american restaurant! The place is really secluded and private. It's nice. The only problem was that the place smelled like old people. Not to be rude but it was only older people there. But everything else was GREAT. The food was awesome and me and my mom had a good time. I had Glazed salmon, baby carrots, and potatoes!!
